WOMAN HELD CHARGED WITH WHITE SLAVERY

FIRST CASE AGAINST "MALE OF THE SPICES" UNDER MANN LAW

Topeka, Kan., June 5.—If Fred Robertson, United States district attorney, can so convince the court, there may be more than one side to white slave cases hereafter. For the first time since the white slave law took effect three years ago, a woman is being prosecuted under the act. Robertson went to Kansas City this morning to appear personally in the preliminary trial of Elva Knowles, against whom he has filed a complaint charging her with "conspiring to violate the white slave law."

The complaint is a result of a decision made by the United States supreme court on February 1, of this year, in which it was held that "a woman may conspire to commit an offense against the United States within the meaning of the criminal code of March 4, 1909, although the object of the conspiracy is her own transportation in interstate commerce for the purpose of prostitution contrary to the white slave act."

Clyde Knowles, husband of Elva Knowles, was indicted last April on a charge of white slavery. The indictment charges that he transported his wife from Kansas to Oklahoma for unlawful purposes. Knowles is now in jail in default of bond. When Robertson was in Wichita attending the last term of court, held there he investigated the case and decided to file complaint against both Knowles and his wife for conspiring to violate the white slave law.

Mrs. Knowles disappeared before a warrant could be served upon her and was not found until yesterday in Kansas City. She was arrested and her preliminary hearing was set for today before a United States commissioner. Robertson decided to personally represent the government in the case and if he wins when the case comes up for trial in the United States district court, the white slave law will be a double-edged sword.

The case in Kansas City went over till June 29.

Government Action Against London Times.

Lord Northcliffe.

The British government has begun action against the London Times, of which Lord Northcliffe, believed by many newspaper men to be the greatest publisher in the world, is the owner. The charge is made in connection with a statement printed some time ago about the French army.

It is held that the statement gave information to the enemy. However, the prosecution is considered a result of the fight Lord Northcliffe's newspapers have made on Lord Kitchener, war minister. Repeatedly the Times and the Daily Mail have charged that the British army in France was not supplied with sufficient ammunition, and that battles and men were lost because of this. The charges, with those made by Lord Fisher against Winston Churchill, led to the reorganization of the British cabinet. Kitchener held his place. But it was considered by many that the Times charges were admitted by the government when it took from Kitchener the control of the supply of munitions of war and made Lloyd-George minister of munitions.

200 PIGS FOR 200 BOYS.
Everywhere in Alabama the slogan is "Divorcism." but the most difficult thing is to turn the cotton raiser into the real farmer. Stock associations, diversification campaigns, and movable schools for negroes have been started, the last with the aid of the Smith-Lever fund. Tick eradication is no longer in the experimental stage and a thoroughly equipped laboratory for the treatment of hog cholera is under construction at Auburn, Ala. Polytechnic institute at Auburn, Ala.

A plan calculated to end Alabama's importation of ham, bacon and pork from the Middle West has been advanced by the Rotary club of Montgomery, an organization of business men. The plan involves direct help to the farmer boy in growing pigs. Assisted by one of the banks the Rotary club will finance the buying of 200 pigs by industrious boys of Montgomery. A thousand dollars has been pledged for this purpose. The money will be lent in sums of five dollars each; a note will be taken from each boy and he will be advised and directed in his purchase of a pig. If he is reasonably industrious and careful he not only will gain in experience, but will profit financially.

PRAYED WHILE HE GRABBED A MILLION

NATHAN STEINBERG ADMITS HE GOT AWAY WITH THAT MUCH IN YEAR

Chicago, June 5.—Nathan Steinberg, a burglar who says he does not smoke, drink nor dissipate, and prays daily, and who admits that in 10 years he stole and disposed of $1,000,000 worth of property, today underwent cross-examination in the so-called "craft case."

"When I was honest I was honest," said the witness. "When I came from Austria, I was just a clean-handed kid with no other ambition than to live an honest life."

"What made you change?" asked the attorney for the three former police officers on trial.

"New York, just little old New York," replied the witness. "It is easier to be crooked than straight there, and a great deal more profitable. I got in with a bad gang and here I am. I am a real crook."

The cross-examination was dropped largely to the purpose of trying to show that Steinberg and other offenders who will appear for the state conspired while in prison to get into the good graces of State's Attorney Hoyne by giving evidence against the police.

"Do you intend to commit more burglaries when you get that release from prison Mr. Hoyne has promised you?" asked the attorney.

"No; I think I'll reform."

MONDAY, JUNE 14TH, WILL BE FLAG DAY.

There has never been a time in the history of our country when it was more important for our citizens to emphasize by their acts their respect for our country's flag than it is right now.

It stands for and is the emblem of liberty, equal rights and the protection of all our citizens. Our President is sparing no efforts that cultured patriotism, humanity and justice can bring to bear in this hour of world-shaking tragedy, nobly, calmly, yet firmly demanding by peaceable means if possible, the legal and just rights of every American citizen.

Let's emphasize our appreciation of our President's noble work and our love for our flag and country by making June 14th, Fourth of July, a red letter flag day. Decorate our business houses and homes. Organize by wards our children and our young men and girls. Have them select their own leaders. Have a flag in the hand of every one as they march down our streets to beautiful Mineral Wells park, eat our lunches and cream in that beautiful greenhouse, make a joyous and happy day in the lives of all our children, play with them their games, sing their songs, swing them, teter them, and if you can't do anything else, climb a tree and watch them do their stunts.

Are you all for it? If you are not, you ought to be. Are you going to put a flag on your child, your business house and home? If you don't you should be ashamed of being such a poor specimen of an American citizen. Do your duty and you will certainly reap a rich reward.

Men Wanted.
One of the most courageous deeds recorded in the Bible was that of Obed-edom in receiving the ark into his house. He knew no peril, for he trusted God. "He was like Livingstone, whose path was once barred by a gathering of hostile natives. The great missionary took his Bible, opened it at the words, 'I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee,' and closed it with the remark, 'I can trust the honor of Him who has pledged his word.' The next morning he moved forward and found that all opposition melted away. As Rev. J. F. Dyer said, 'God is looking for men. He wants men whom he can trust. If you can not trust him, he can not trust you.'

They say every big family has a black sheep. Well that's the way of the world. Even among Diamond Tires there's about one out of every hundred that isn't just what it ought to be.

—Mister Squeegie

We don't judge families by their black sheep.

We judge the black sheep by their families. And the better the family the blacker the sheep. So when a Diamond Tire gets into trouble we think more strongly about it because it comes from such a good family.

But isn't it a wonderful record—about one Diamond Tire in every hundred a black sheep? Oh, not really deep-dyed black—let's say it's sort of a dark gray sheep, actually.

The difficulty is that Diamond Tires can only be compared with Diamond Tires. There's no other standard of comparison.

Send for our book of letters from dealers who sold Diamond Tires in 1914.

It tells how more than 99 out of every 100 of the more than half million Diamond Tires sold last year gave maximum service at minimum mileage cost. It is yours for the asking.
